DELIVERING CONNECTIVITY – THE ROLE OF DREDGING IN MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS

To be held at the Institution of Civil Engineers, One Great George Street, London, SW1P 3AA

In countries around the world dredging plant is playing an essential role in the delivery of major infrastructure schemes that enhance connectivity at national to global scales. For our December technical seminar, CEDA UK will showcase a number of exciting, major infrastructure projects where dredging is a key component. Our expert speakers will introduce the projects and highlight the role of dredging in projects as diverse as bridges, tunnels, canals and other major infrastructure. Join us on this tour of the world's most exciting maritime infrastructure projects to understand the importance of dredging to delivering connectivity.

This is a CEDA member event that is open to non-members for a fee. The fee includes a 1 year complementary membership of CEDA UK. The seminar will be followed by a Christmas drinks reception for CEDA members and invited guests – a great opportunity to network with fellow maritime professionals.

Chair: Nicola Clay, Chair CEDA UK, Director Environment Royal HaskoningDHV
